

The drawing is divided into four quadrants by a horizontal and a vertical pink line. The top-left quadrant contains a block of Japanese text. The top-right quadrant shows a floor plan of a rectangular building with a grid of internal walls and a double-line outer boundary. The bottom-left quadrant shows a front elevation of the building with a gabled roof and a vertical green centerline. The bottom-right quadrant shows a side elevation of the building with a gabled roof and a horizontal blue ground line. The drawing is overlaid on a coordinate grid with horizontal axis values from 0 to 70 and vertical axis values from 10 to 60.
